

Robert Edsel

The Monuments Men: Allied Heroes, Nazi Thieves, and the Greatest Treasure Hunt in History

Tuesday, November 14, 7:30 p.m.

Robert Edsel's impassioned journey unraveled the secrets of the unsung heroes who saved the world's greatest art and cultural treasures. A former nationally ranked tennis player and oilman, he is now a renowned art preservation advocate.

Edsel's New York Times best-selling book, The Monuments Men: Allied Heroes, Nazi Thieves, and the Greatest Treasure Hunt in History, was the basis for the 2014 film George Clooney wrote, directed, and starred in and which featured an all-star cast.

Fort Wayne Museum of Art is co-sponsoring this lecture.

Tickets for Robert Edsel's lecture will be available at 12:30 p.m. on October 30.
